Foreword

The annual staff of 1963 has tried to make the TALON a record of your first year at Southeast High School. In later years, as you re-live this year of your high school life, may you find your fondest memories captured here. As you turn each page, perhaps you will remember the tearful and disappointing, joyful and wonderful experiences which made 1963 at SHS a most enjoyable year of your life.

It took much work, many long hours, and lost study halls in order to produce the first yearbook of Southeast High School. The road was long and hard, for there was no predecessor.

Now the time has come for us to part. As we leave these portals of Southeast High, we leave behind the cherished memories that have endeared us to our school.

As we move on to blaze new trails, may we stop and cherish those memories once again through the activities and organizations that helped us establish them.

We Came . . .

September, 1963. As the doors of Southeast High School opened wide for the first time, seven hundred unassuming, yet eager, students walked through with much anticipation.

We knew that we, as a student body, would have to change many of our previous ideas and accustomed ways. We began thinking of colors, cheers, rings, and uniforms that could be used at Southeast. We wondered how the Student Government and clubs would be formed from three different schools.

We Saw . . .

We saw ourselves, many for the first time, mature into young adults. Aiding us in this growth was a wealth of ideas and devices provided for us by the school. The teachers also began working long hours with extra curricular activities, publications, and the unceasing subjects which they taught.

It was difficult to imagine that the mass of unfamiliar faces would soon become familiar classmates and dear friends. The curriculum was different; the teachers, new.

We saw the challenge.

We Achieved.

We should not be sorry that we have no traditions or old customs to follow. We have blazed a new trail, leaving the ways of past generations behind. We have the opportunity to plan ahead for future generations, a responsibility not to be taken lightly.

We have learned to adapt ourselves to new and different conditions. Southeast High School can be very proud of its first students.

In the change from three small county schools to one large consolidated school, there are many areas in which a school must expand. In this expansion many people play important roles. Perhaps the most important is played by those who help us as students to live up to those objectives.

Southeast High School has been fortunate to have had many such persons who not only set high standards, but worked diligently to see those standards met.

Because of our deep appreciation for their self-sacrifice and hard work, and because we understand the importance of such work, we dedicate the 1963 TALON to Mr. John A. Cox and the entire faculty of Southeast High School.

Miss Elizabeth Hanner

Mr. Bob Manning

MR. JOHN A. COX, Principal

Mr. Cox relinquished his position of leadership at Summerfield High School to come to Southeast as our first principal. He has worked consistently to establish at Southeast a feeling of unity and loyalty, and has received both discipline and greatest respect from his first students.

The Science Department: Mr. Collette, Mr. Wagoner, Mr. Bare, and Mrs. Evins.

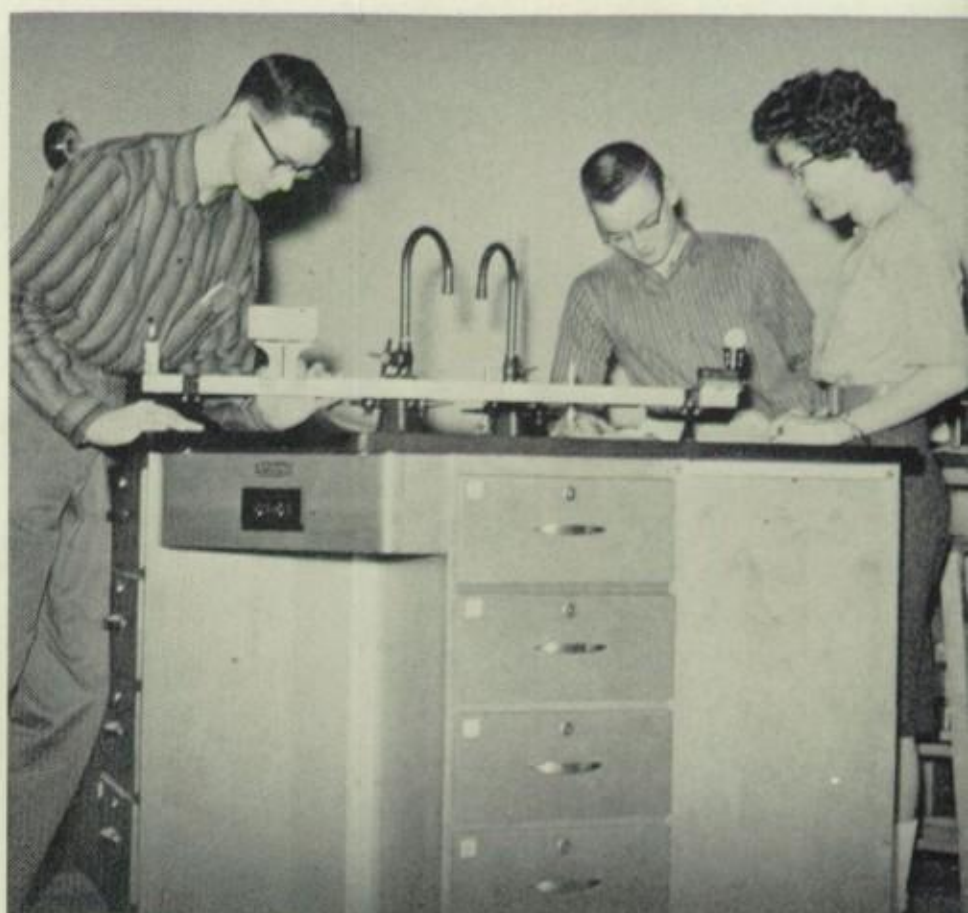

Many students have taken advantage of the excellent courses offered by the Science Department. All freshmen took general science and learned much about our world in general. Sophomores taking biology learned about the complexities of plant and animal life by studying microscopic organisms and dissecting earthworms, frogs, and cats. Juniors and seniors wishing to delve into the changes that matter undergoes elected chemistry and physics. Students taking chemistry got their first taste of experimentation in the well-equipped lab. Physics students undertook the study of physical changes of matter, working with force, motion, heat, light, electricity, and studying nuclear energy. Students with a special interest in life took advanced biology. Working in our modern, well-stocked lab and classrooms was a joy and seemed to stimulate the students' interest and participation.

I hope you have learned something in biology. I have at times.
Mr. Wagoner
Science Department Offers

Watch it!! It may explode!!!

Physics students experiment with light.

Our special pride is our well-stocked chemicals lab.

Challenge and Opportunity

Dissecting the cat was a new and doubtful treat for biology students.

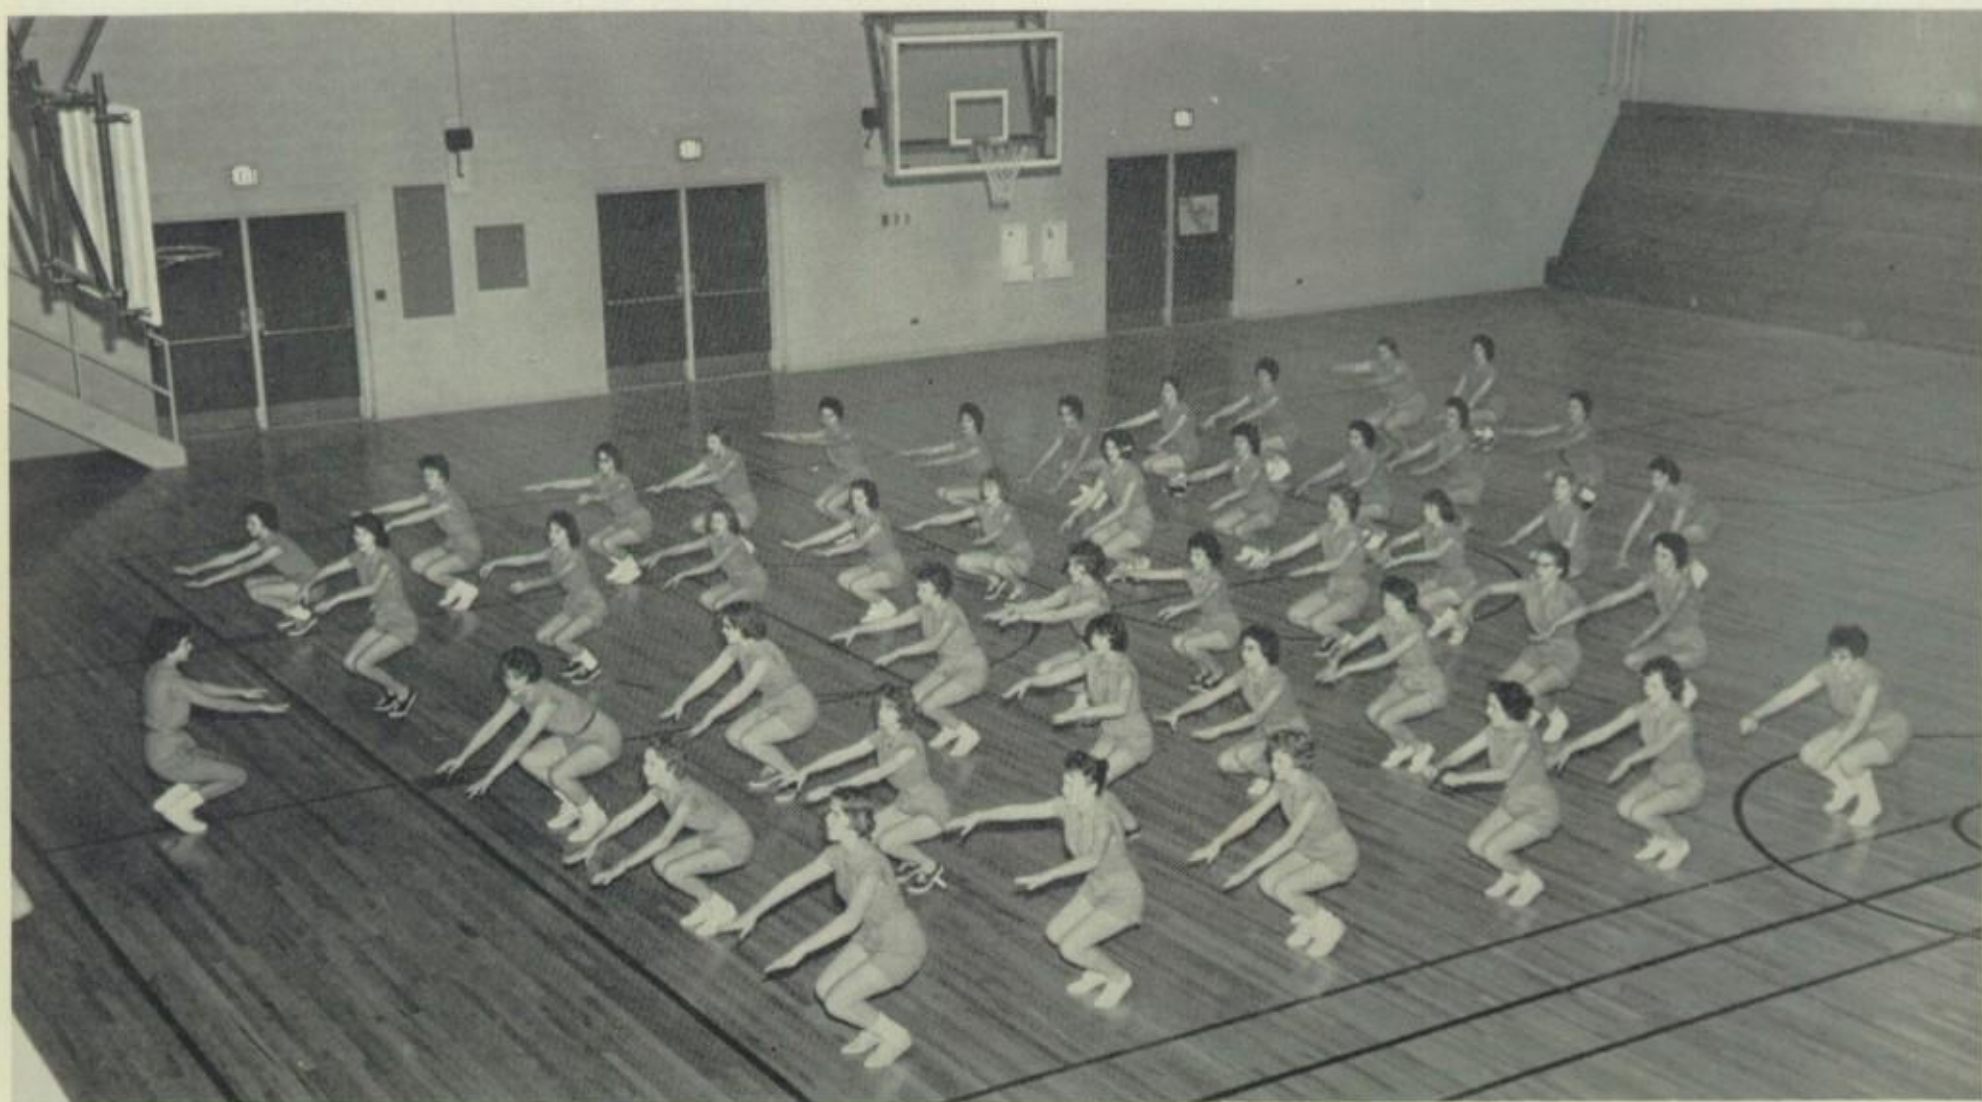

General science classes are initiated into a general knowledge of that wide field.

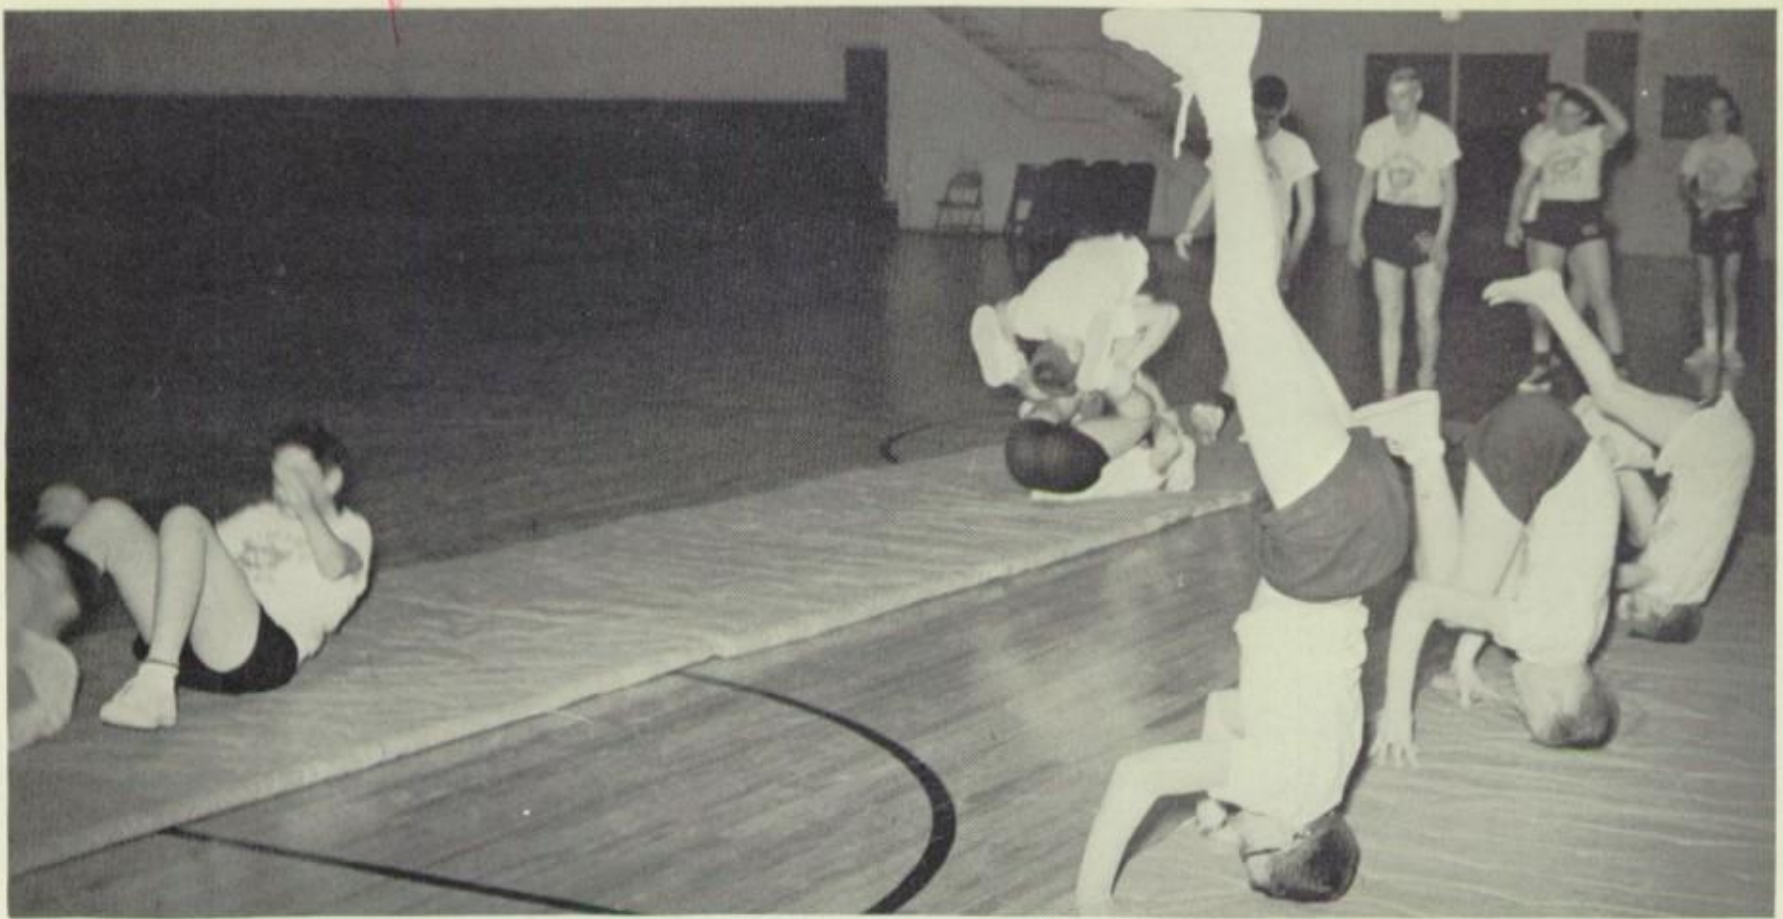

"TRIMMING UP THOSE MUSCLES"

Physical Education

"WORKING OFF SOME OF THAT WEIGHT"

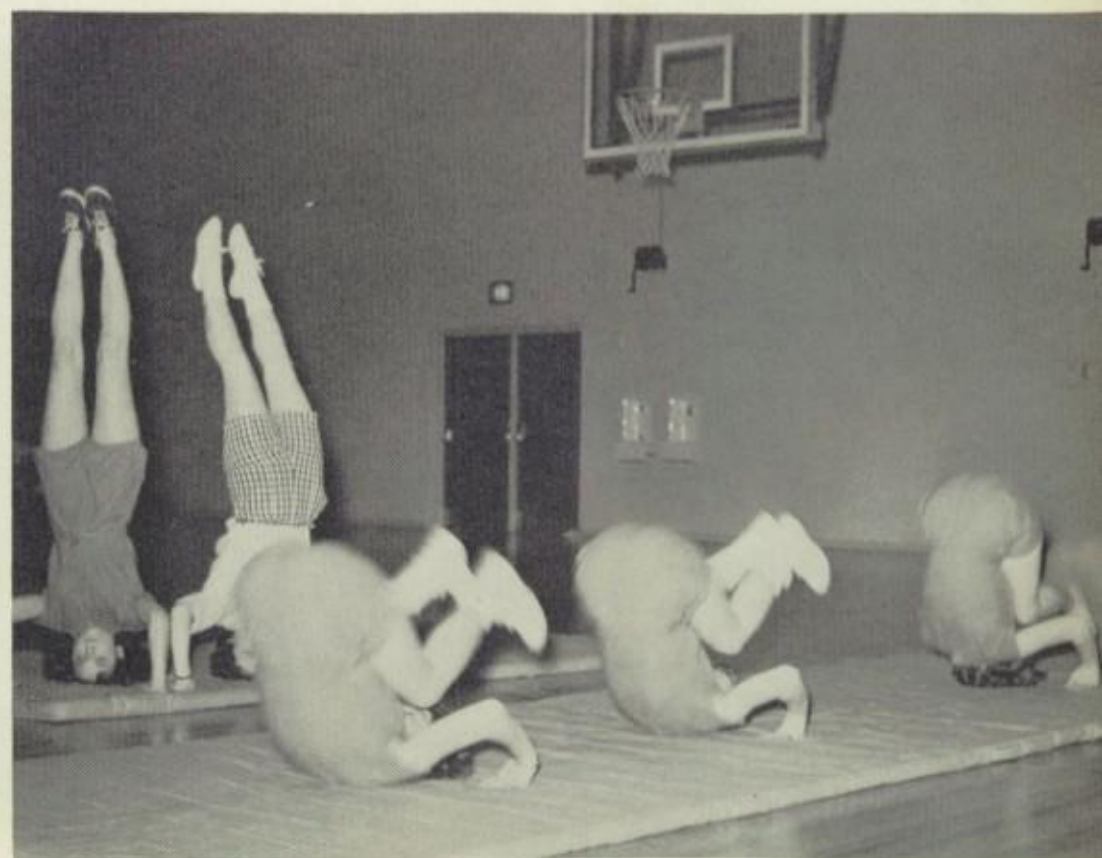

"A DIZZYING EXHIBITION"

The ninth grade physical education students, boys and girls both, under the direction of Mr. Hicks, Mr. Teachey, and Mr. Collette, took up various athletic games during the year. The boys have worked on their football, basketball, baseball, softball, track, and tumbling skills. Basketball, softball, track, and tumbling fundamentals were all attacked by the girls. Exercises were done at the beginning of each period to loosen the muscles. All these exercises and athletic games, plus their study of health, have made our freshmen more aware of their newly acquired skills and of the general functions of the body.

When in doubt. . . .giggle!

Push on.keep moving!

Language teachers discuss future plans for their department.

The language department of Southeast High School offers new fields of study in the foreign languages Spanish, Latin, and French.

Speech and dramatics is a new course for students who want to improve their abilities in public speaking and acting.

Our language department has a lab equipped with record players, tape recorders, and other facilities for student use. There are records on file which the teachers use to parallel their subject.

Students have enjoyed various displays which have been placed in the showcase near the language rooms.

Mrs. Gray shows Bobby his mistake in his board work.

These students listen to Mrs. Jones as she explains their Spanish lesson.

Juniors learn about American literature under Miss Hanner's instruction.

Mr. Cullers leads his senior English class into the world of Shakespeare.

Sarah puts to use the principles of speech.

Linda and Brenda perform before the dramatics class.

Language Department Offers New Advantages

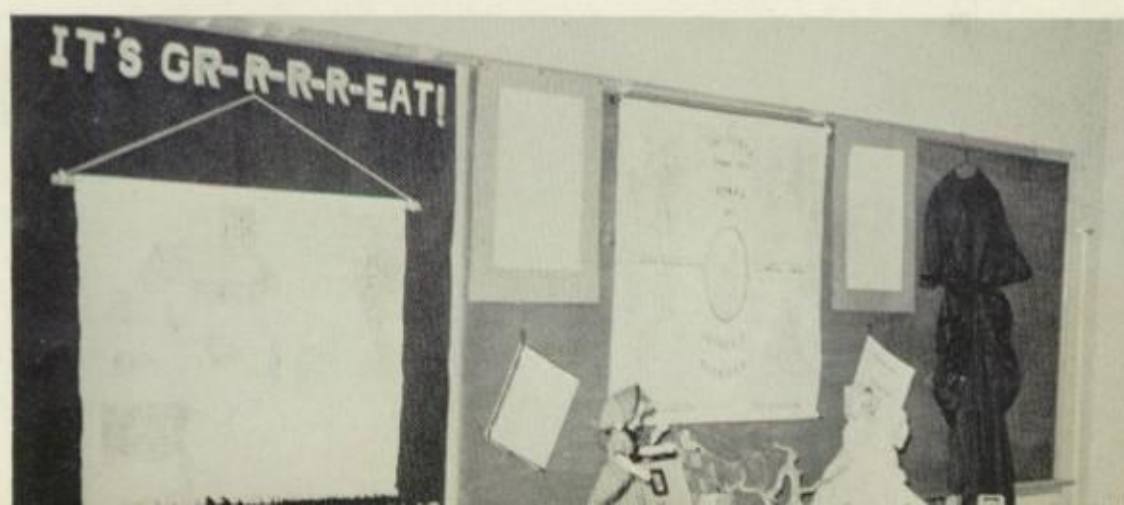

Seniors spend many hours in the library working on their research papers.

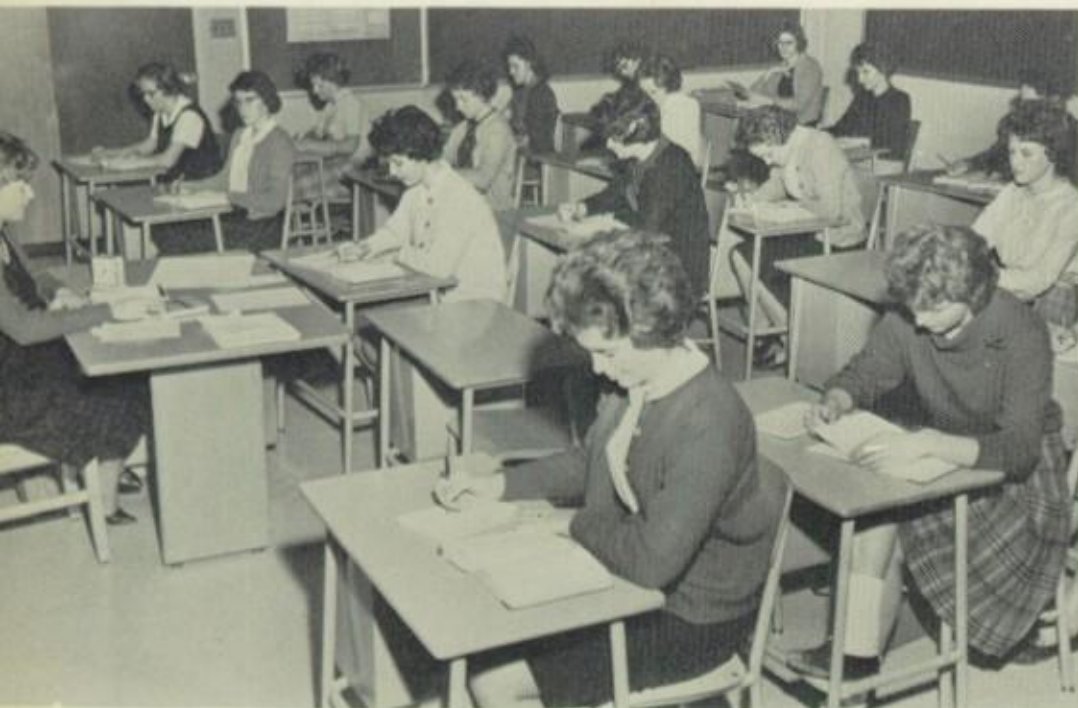

Sandra and Bob do separate work in the language lab.

Mrs. Edmondson's classes recapture the scenes of the old world of literature.

Brief forms and phrases are learned early.

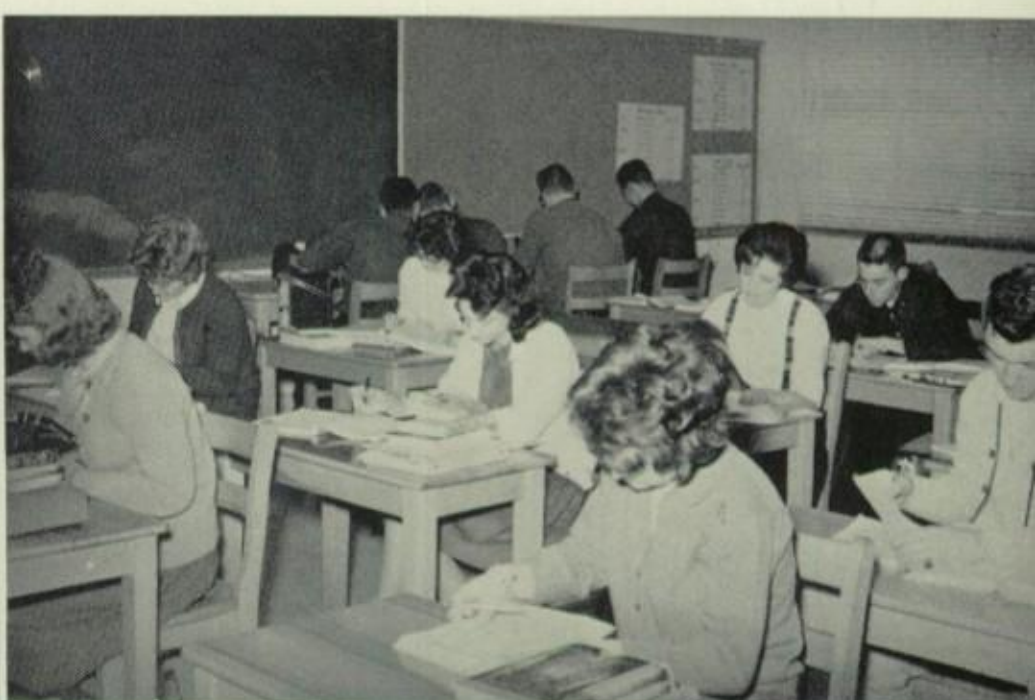

Ruby, Brenda, and Bettie operate duplicating machines with ease.

Commercial teachers take coffee break.

Office Practice students learn to file.

Into the world of Debits and Credits.

Practice increases proficiency.

Basic business math is taught in General Business.

Business Department

Our commercial department helps students prepare for future business careers, whether they go to work after graduation or go to college to study business.

Typewriting has been a popular course for many students, Sophomores to Seniors. Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Office Practice and General Business have also been taught for those who plan to work in business.

In Bookkeeping, a special course in Income Taxes was taught and received with much enthusiasm. The goal for Shorthand students was set at 100 words per minute, and after hard continuous practice the goal was achieved. Girls in Office Practice learned the basic procedures of managing a business office, also the ability to work duplicator machines, adding machines, dictaphones, and how to file.

"Watch the book -- not your hands."

A new procedure in typing letters.

Senior girls in the Home Economics Department prepare another of their famous dishes.

Sophomores show their knowledge of several skills learned in Home Economics.

Home Economics Prepare Students For

Freshmen girls are preparing to mix one of their first dishes.

The study of home economics is of value to girls enrolled in all high school programs--academic, business, vocational, and general. Home Economics students pursue the basic courses of cooking and sewing, personal and family problems, management, child care and development, and the care and repair of clothing. Since every girl is a potential homemaker, work of this type not only helps her to develop as a person, but also to prepare for the most important of all vocations--home-making.

Vocational teachers enjoy a few minutes of relaxation after a busy day of teaching.

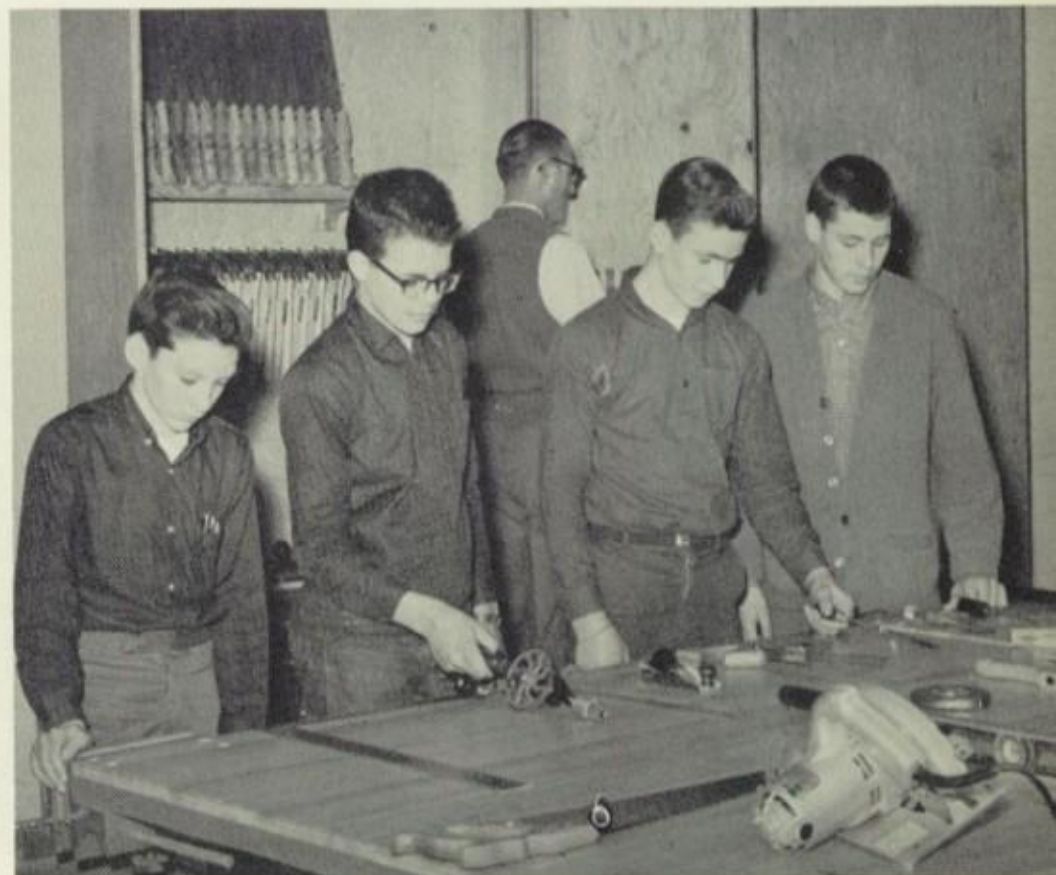

Mr. Hunter instructs future farmers in the basic ideals of agriculture.

and Agriculture Help Vocational Careers

Vocational agriculture today includes opportunities in related industries in addition to careers in farming. The need for workers in industry with an agricultural background is greater than ever before. Students in vocational agriculture gain confidence in themselves through F.F.A. sponsored contests, such as tool judging, etc., in addition to studying new methods and practices in the classroom and shop.

Winning tool-judging team: Johnny Clontz, Jerry Staley, Billy Bowman, and John McDonald.

Miss Hemphill finds time, in her busy day, to help shelve books.

Our school library has had maximum usage! This is true because our library's modern interior with its brand new tables and chairs, and excellent selection of books beckons students to come and study.

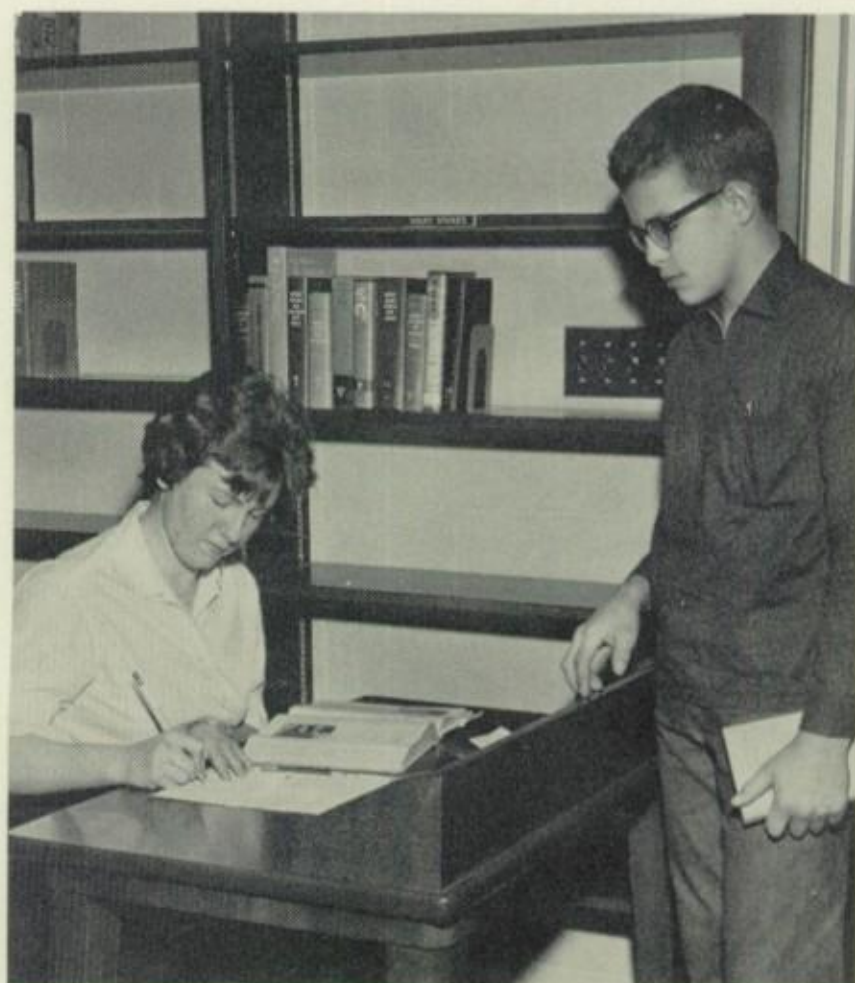

The library now has a good collection of books and encyclopedias. The library subscribes to a large number of newspapers and magazines.

Each period students assist in the library, checking, sorting, and shelving books.

Library and

Carolyn Dunham finds the library a big help for research work.

Cheryl is kept busy checking students out.

While the administration sets up the curricular pattern for the students, the guidance department conveys this pattern to each student individually, helping him adjust it to his own needs and ambitions. The head of Guidance, Mrs. Janelle Gallimore, plans the methods of assistance given to students. She helps all students to recognize their abilities and develop them to their best advantage.

By receiving personal counseling from the same person, the student is enabled to familiarize the counselor with his particular problems. Decisions are left up to the student, though helpful advice and suggestions are readily given.

Mrs. Gallimore advises Barbara on her future plans.

Guidance

Typing is a big job; but Duane does a good job.

Math and

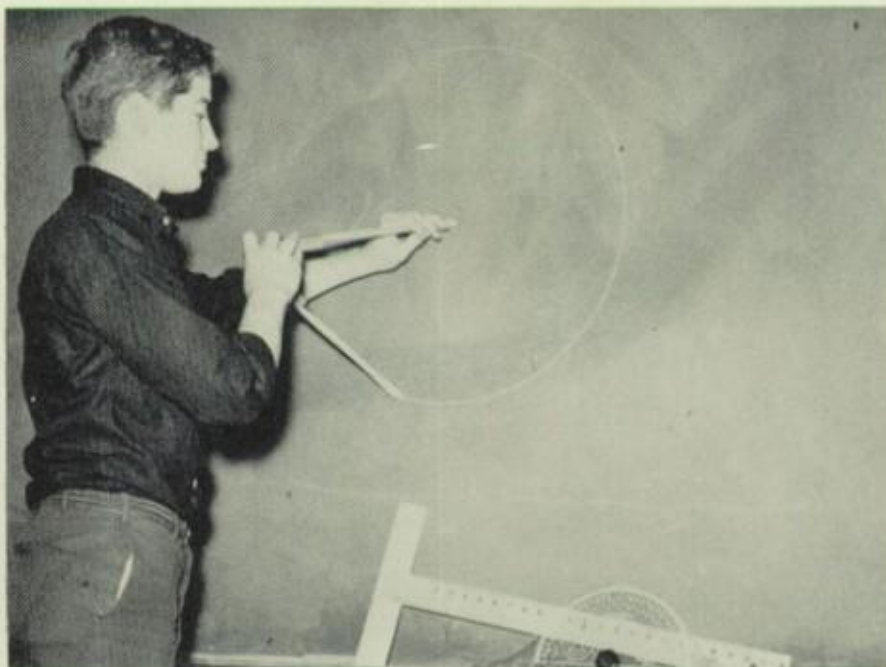

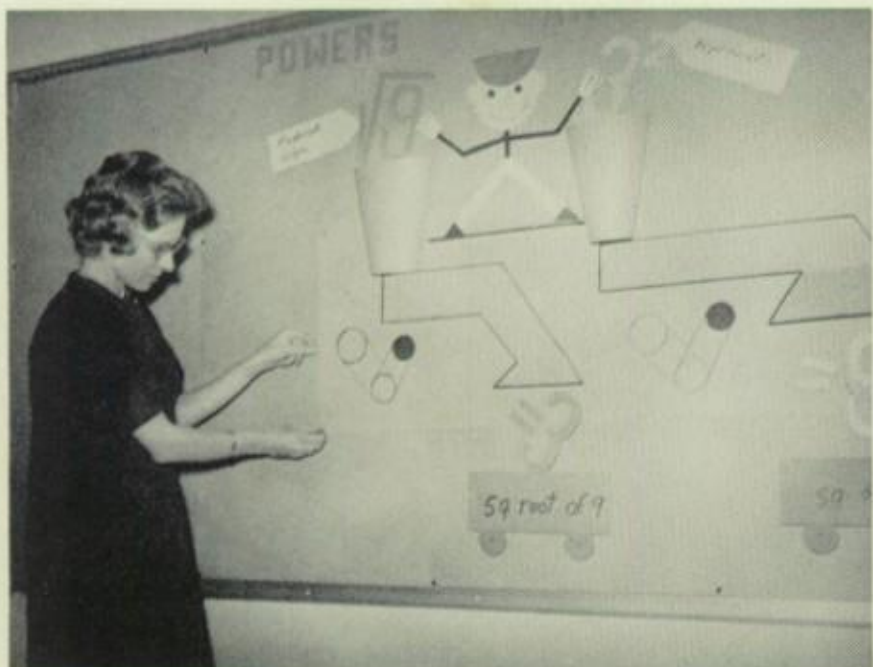

These students don't seem to be TOO puzzled under Mr. Driscoll's instruction.

Algebra, advanced algebra, geometry, and trigonometry are a few of the challenging subjects offered at Southeast. These subjects tend to lure the more mathematically inclined to further their knowledge in this field. Under the guidance of our three superior math teachers, these students can expect to broaden their knowledge.

Mrs. Hanna makes her course more interesting with the aid of her bulletin boards.

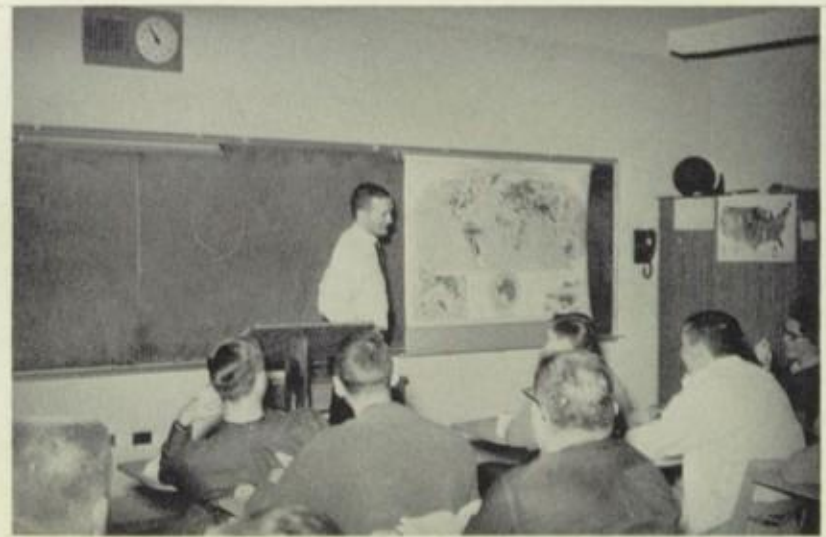

Compasses, rulers, protractors, and pencils are tools used to progress from simple math to even a little "modern algebra".

Social Studies

U. S. History students enjoy a change in "scenery" as Miss Perry begins her student teaching.

Mr. McCaskill enlightens his history course with an appealing sense of humor.

What special event in history would you like to know more about? At Southeast, students are given the opportunity to learn much about the factual as well as the entertaining hi-lights in both our American history and world history. When a Southeast student has completed these courses, he has a good understanding of the background and structure of the United States and other nations of the world.

These students are eager to learn of their rich heritage from Mr. Skiver.

Battle of Hastings, Waterloo, Battle of Midway-- these are just a few of the places and events to learn about in Mr. Teachey's world history class.

Get on your mark; get set; go!

Our future Symphony Orchestra

Always a booster of school spirit, the band of Southeast played a major role in the entertainment of our Homecoming game. Under the leadership of Mr. Harold Grant, the Band performed at pep rallies. This year our band will take part in the All-State Band Contest.

Band and Choral Music

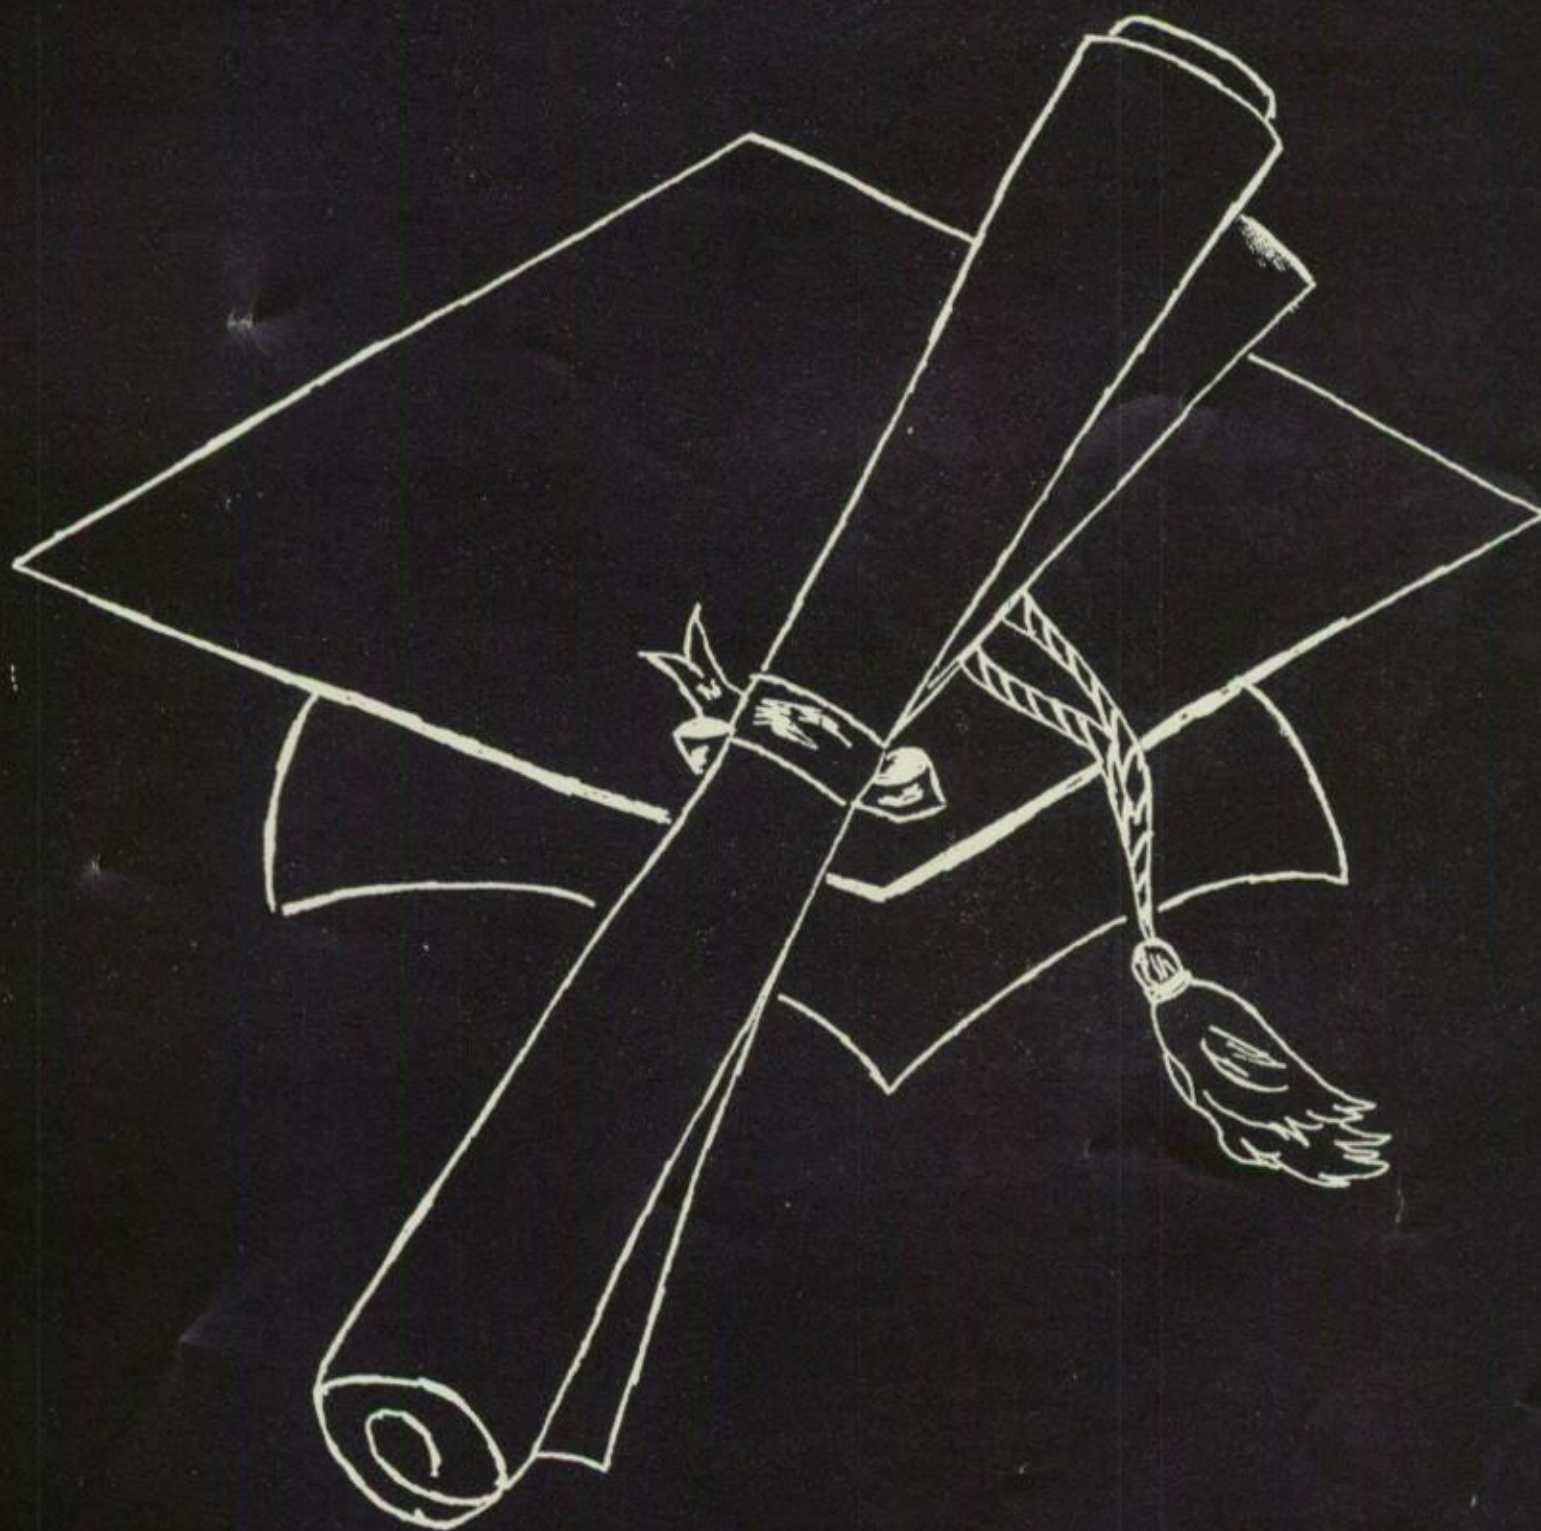

The Glee Club members united their efforts and produced a sparkling repertoire of music. The group met daily at fourth period, in the chorus room, where they learned songs for numerous occasions, including Thanksgiving, Christmas, and P.T.A. During the year they presented programs for assemblies. Early in the spring we participated in the State Contest.

The Class of 1963 entered Southeast High School with reservations. Much would be expected of this first graduating class of our new school. New standards would be set--could we meet the challenge? We believe we have met this challenge well this year.

We came--hesitantly. We saw--new horizons, new goals. We achieved--a lasting place for ourselves. And we leave--treasuring a strong feeling of devotion to all the new friends we have made and all the advantages we found here which were not available in the smaller high schools.

The Junior Class

As the new school year began, the junior class decided to make itself known at Southeast. Classes had hardly begun when we found juniors in every corner selling magazines to finance their many activities. The first chief cheerleader of Southeast was from the junior class. Sponsors wasted no time in selecting ten class leaders as marshals. Three juniors were appointed as assistants on the annual staff. We found juniors excelling on the football field, basketball court, and in student government. The Class of 1964 intends to uphold the standards set by the first graduating class and strive for new achievements.

The Sophomore Class

Nobody could ignore the Sophomores as they proceeded to establish a place for themselves in a new high school. The Sophomore Class entered as the largest class in the high school. Some tenth graders became members of the student government, Hi-Y, Y-Teens, the band, and athletic teams. Our first runner-up for "Miss Falcon" was a sophomore. The sophomores have quickly adapted themselves to a new school, new friends, and a new curriculum. They look forward to earning membership in the service clubs and honor organizations which are available only to upperclassmen, and many of them are preparing for these goals now by participating in activities of the school. The sophomores complete this first year at Southeast with satisfaction and look forward to all that awaits them as upperclassmen.

The Freshman Class

The class of 1966 entered Southeast High School as "green" as any class. Since not even seniors knew their way around at the beginning, nobody could pick on the freshmen.

Not knowing what to expect, we entered Southeast looking forward to the meeting of new friends and taking advantage of the new activities and clubs, as well as more and better courses. We have three more years, but we are looking forward to each one with great anticipation of many more enjoyable hours.

The 1963 TALON is proudly presented to you by the annual staff as Southeast High School's first yearbook. We have tried to set a precedent for annuals to follow, and yet leave room for originality and improvement. If success can be measured by the amount of time and work invested, this year's TALON can be deemed a great success.

Student Council

The greatness and newness of Southeast High School impressed its entrants this fall, 1962. Both faculty and students saw that in this large a school, it would be necessary to have some type of representative group, a group to take the lead in the student body and represent them in matters concerning them and the faculty of the school. The Student Council was the answer.

Elections were held in September with the entire student body participating to elect the officers of the Council. Also, a boy and a girl was chosen from each homeroom to serve as representatives and complete the membership of the Student Council.

Major activities which the Council undertook this year were: the planning and holding of a dance after the football homecoming game, arranging a schedule so that each member of the Student Council would serve as a monitor to maintain quietness in the hallways, having Southeast's insignia, the Falcon, painted in the center of the basketball court and having a sign erected at the main entrance to Southeast.

Elections for the coming year will be held in the late spring and plans are already in progress for next year.

National Honor Society

Becoming a member of the National Honor Society is the highest honor that can be bestowed upon a junior or senior. To be elected to membership in the Honor Society, one must maintain an average of ninety-three; possess qualities of leadership, scholarship, service, and character; and be elected by faculty vote. Only fifteen percent of the senior class and five percent of the junior class are eligible for membership. The twelve seniors pictured here are charter members of the National Honor Society at Southeast High School.

Junior Civitan

The Junior Civitan Club, under the capable guidance of Mr. J. A. Cox, has endeavored in its first year of existence to set up and maintain high standards of school and home life. The Southeast chapter of the Junior Civitan Club is sponsored by the Hamilton Lakes Civitan Club. The main project for this year was selling fruit cakes at Christmas. Another highlight was the Banquet given by the Hamilton Lakes Club for both the Junior Civitan and the Civinettes. It was at this banquet that both clubs received their charters.

Under the direction of Mrs. Delos Hanna, the Civinettes carried out many service projects during their first year. The Civinettes, in co-operation with the Junior Civitans, sold fruit cakes in December. Included in their projects were a coat check for the basketball fans, fixing the bulletin boards before each basketball game, and they also sponsored a Mitten Tree during Christmas. Each student was asked to bring a pair of gloves to add to the tree, and when the season was over, the mittens were sent as a gift to a children's orphanage.

MASQUETEERS SEE ACTION

The Masqueteers, under the direction of Mr. John Cullers, enjoyed a tremendously successful year at our new high school. Aside from the fact that they participated actively in all aspects of dramatics, they also presented a minstrel show, "Darkies' Awakening," a musical sketch of the Old South. Their treasury was greatly increased by this project. Later, the club presented ANTIGONE, a Greek classic tragedy. The members directed and produced several dramatizations given at club meetings. Debates were popular; many controversial situations were argued. Throughout the year the members carried out activities and projects designed to aid students in raising standards of speech.

The Science Club was established at Southeast to give students who are interested in science an opportunity to exercise this interest. Our aim is to promote further study and better understanding of scientific developments. Our club, under the direction of Mr. Bare, is divided into three fields: chemistry, physics, and biology. Members are enrolled in the Jets Program of Western Electric and American Telephone and Telegraph Company. Each member of the Science Club is striving to gain a knowledge of science and to put this knowledge to use in service to the school.

"Practice Makes Perfect"

The Future Business Leaders of America became a chartered club, affiliated with the national organization in December, 1962. In the spring, the officers of the Ragsdale High School FBLA, installed the Southeast members in an assembly program. Under the guidance of Miss Russell and Mrs. Hicks, the Future Business Leaders learned the important qualities of the preparation for future careers. For service projects, club members supervised the business machines workroom during study periods, and sponsored a "Dress-right" week for the student body. A state convention for FBLA clubs was held in Durham in March.

With the guidance of Mr. Harold Grant, the Southeast Band has become a credit to our school. At first there were a few squeaks and off-beat drummers, but those have been eliminated. They have performed before assemblies, pep rallies, football and basketball games, and at P.T.A. They are now looking forward to wearing their new uniforms and becoming a smartly - dressed, fine-playing band.

Among the projects that the F.H.A. girls have engaged in this year has been the making of the newest fad, smocked pillows.

The Future Homemakers of America, guided by Mrs. Redmon and Mrs. Gardner, have sought to be "builders of homes where truth, love, security, and faith are realities" by engaging in several projects this year. At Christmas they made favors for the children at the Cerebral Palsy School. During the second semester, they planned and executed a Mother-Daughter Banquet. All the girls who are members of the F.H.A. find that these projects give them a sense of achievement and give them the opportunity to help others.

Practical experience in the kitchen prepares these girls for their own homes.

Another project that the F.H.A. members have been engaged in is the refinishing of old tables.

The Distributive Education Club has adopted several projects that are designed to help the school. "Projection Clinic" taught a group of boys and girls how to operate the movie projectors. The club members had to instruct at least one other person in the use of the machine.

Another project sponsored by the Distributive Education Club this year is the monitoring of the recreation room, and keeping the room in order.

Photography Club

The Photography Clubs have had much fun learning the correct way to take pictures this year. Mr. Cox and Mr. Hunter, their advisors, have shown them many instruments which help them in the developing and taking pictures. Many have found that simple as it may seem, taking pictures is rather hard.

The cafeteria staff, under the direction of Mrs. Ethel Bowman, put much time and energy into the preparing of the lunches. With so many high school students eating each day, a great deal of planning is necessary.

The cafeteria staff members are Mrs. Ethel Bowman, Mrs. Rosa Oakley, Mrs. Betty Staley, Mrs. Martha Calligan, Mrs. Katherine Sheppard, Mrs. Ruth Smith, and Mrs. Eliaabeth Caviness.

As everyone knows, a high school needs a good maintenance man. With so many small repairs to be done each day, Mr. Clay Johnson stays very busy. As you can see, he always has a screwdriver handy in case a door won't open.

With smudgy windows and the muddy floors left behind by the 700 high school students, Louise Smith and Alice Sheppard held a very important job here at Southeast this year.

Sports

Nelson's touchdown pass to Rummage turns tide of home-coming game against Northeast.

Turner's conversion sets Southeast's victory at 13 - 7.

Football proved to be a favorite pastime of the students at Southeast during the 1962-63 season. The challenge of being a brand new school, with practically no experienced football players, plus the determination of each boy selected for our first team, was the underlying reason for our successful season. 1962 was a rewarding year for the Falcons as they raced their way to victory over five of their opponents, lost heart-breakers to three, and thrilled the spectators with one tie.

Coach Manning and Captain Bowers

Supported by height and team effort, the Falcons continued their drive toward widespread recognition. Coached by Bob Manning and spear-headed by Captain Paul Bowers, the Falcons enjoyed an impressive season for a "first-year" team. The remainder of the first string, Sheldon Nelson, Calvin Francis, Doug Curtis, and Mike Durham, comprised a talented and determined group, ably assisted by a tremendous reserve team.

The future looks bright for the young Falcons, considering a majority of the group will return for the 1964 season.

Team gives their undivided attention to Coach Manning as he explains strategy during last moments of ball game.

Brenda Kay
May

Coach Collette outlines plays with co-captains that will undoubtedly prove fatal to opposing team.

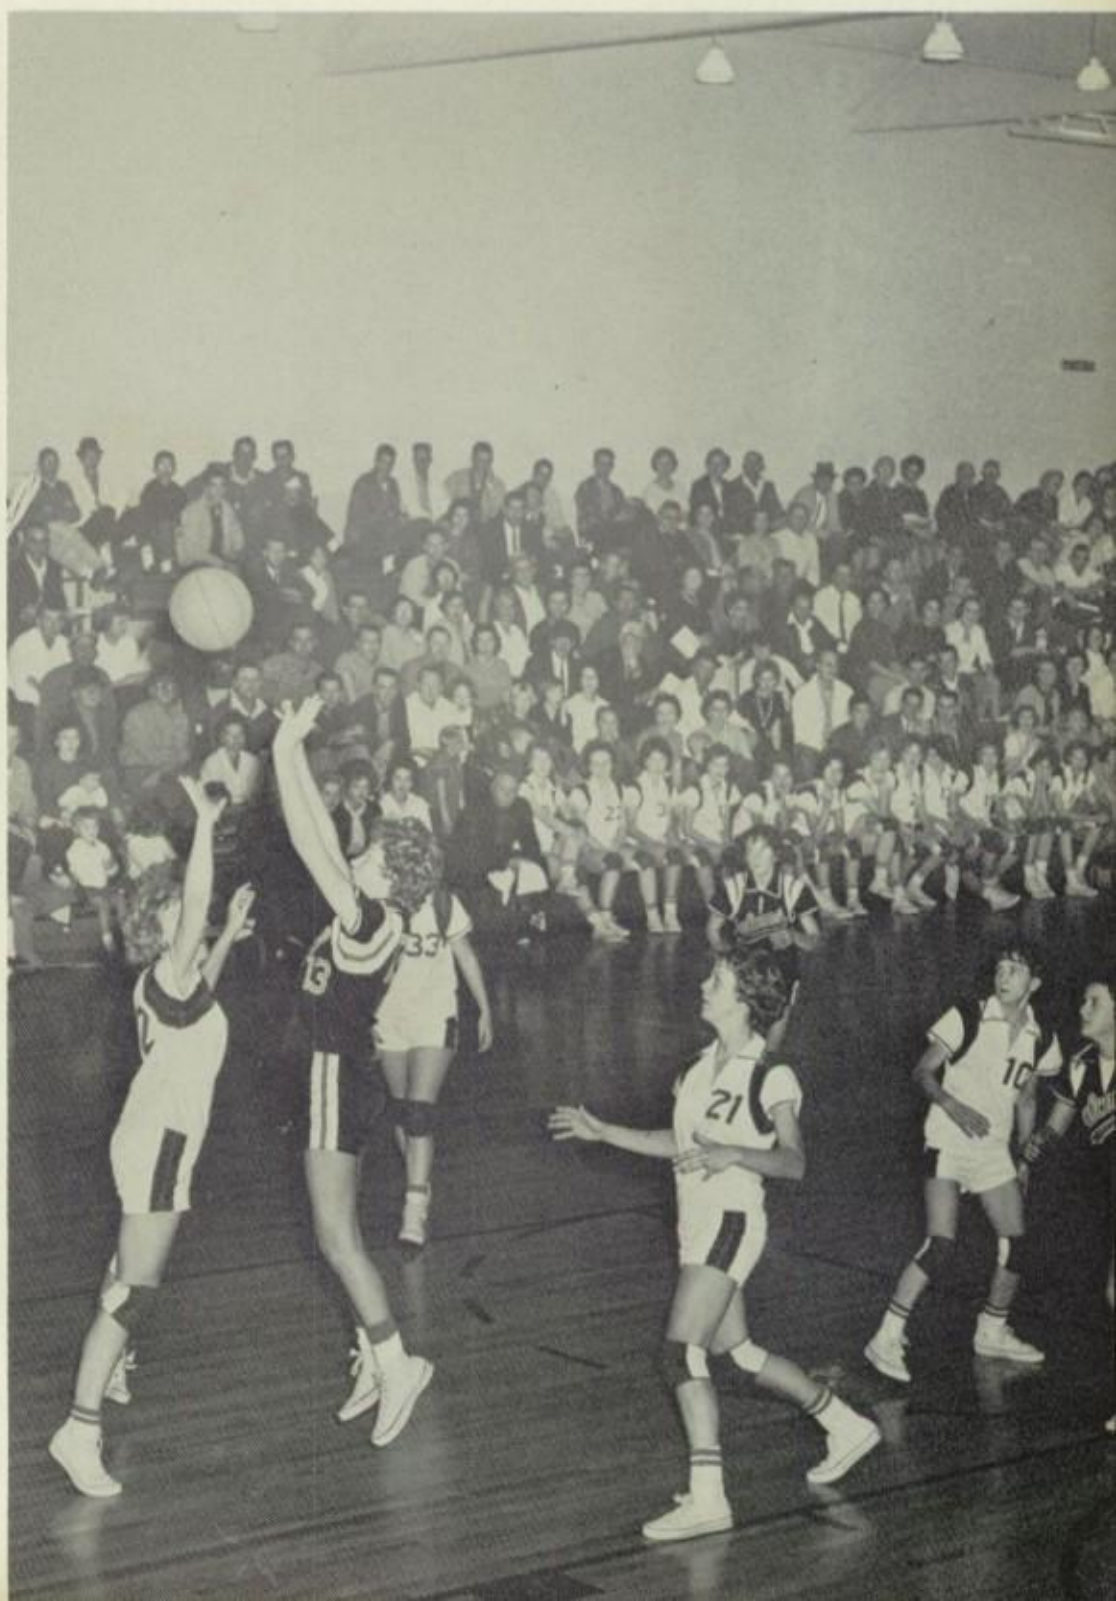

Kathy and Allen are the "necessities" of both the boys' and girls' teams, being the scorekeeper and timer respectively.

Girls' Basketball

The Falcon lassies were a great mixture of effort, talent, and great team spirit. Under the outstanding coaching of Bill Collette, the Falconettes became a first-rate team, feared by their opponents. The girls ended a successful season tied for second place in the conference. The team, which will be minus only a few players, anticipate a winning season next year.

Brenda Kay May swishes one with her famous two-handed push-shot.

Ready and waiting! Senior boys work hard to make their last year their best.

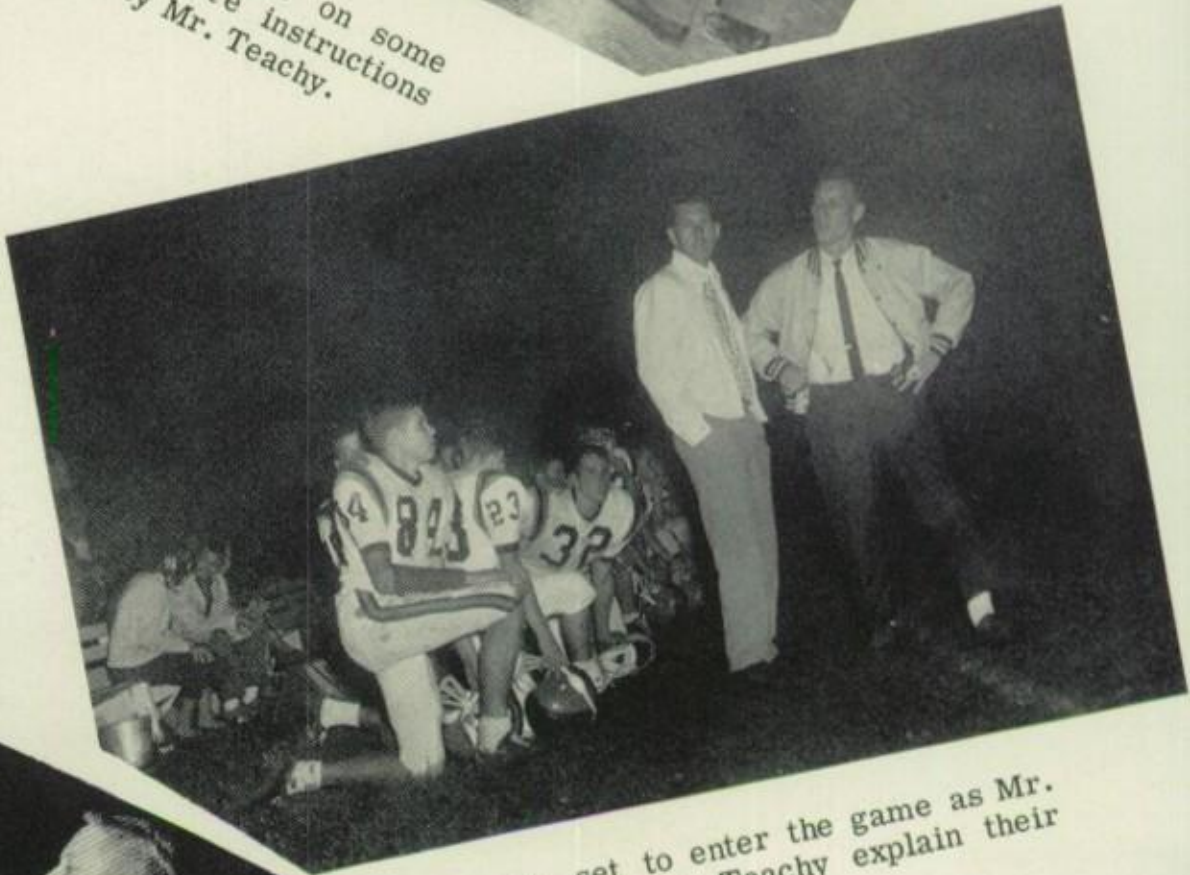

Sheldon checks on some last minute instructions given by Mr. Teachy.

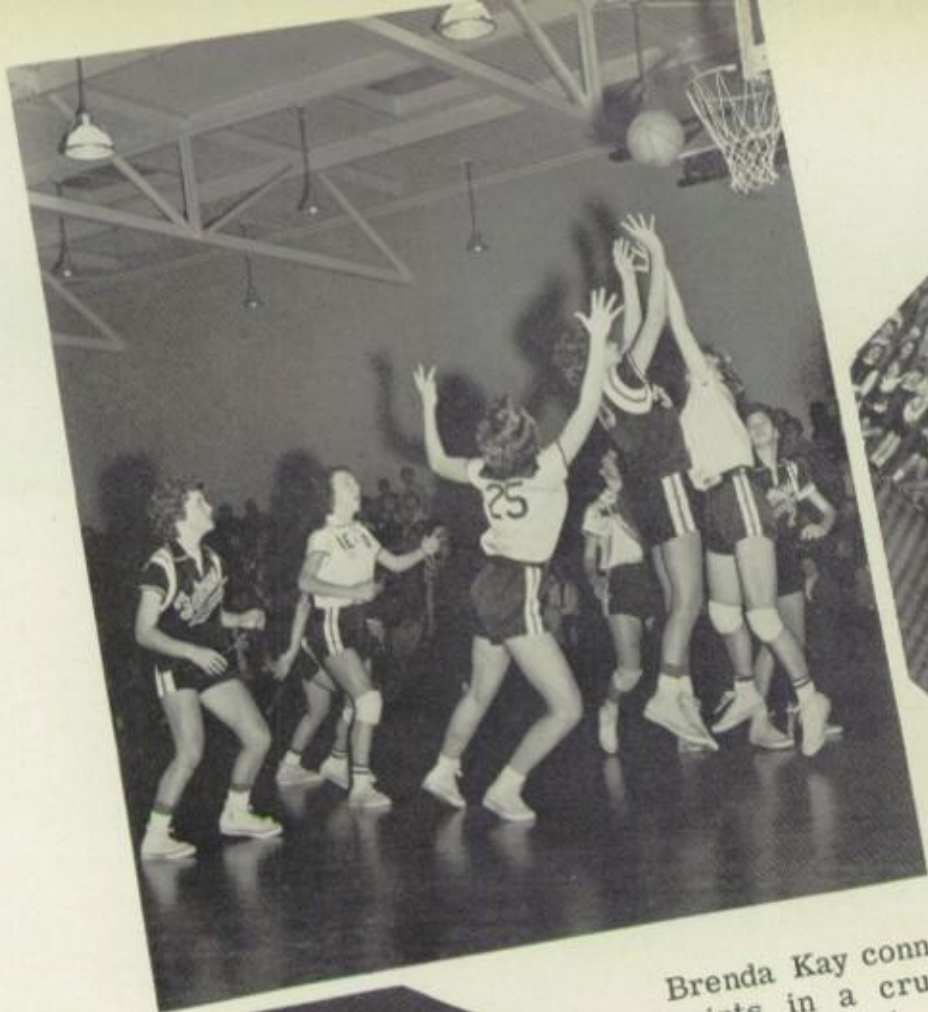

Sports

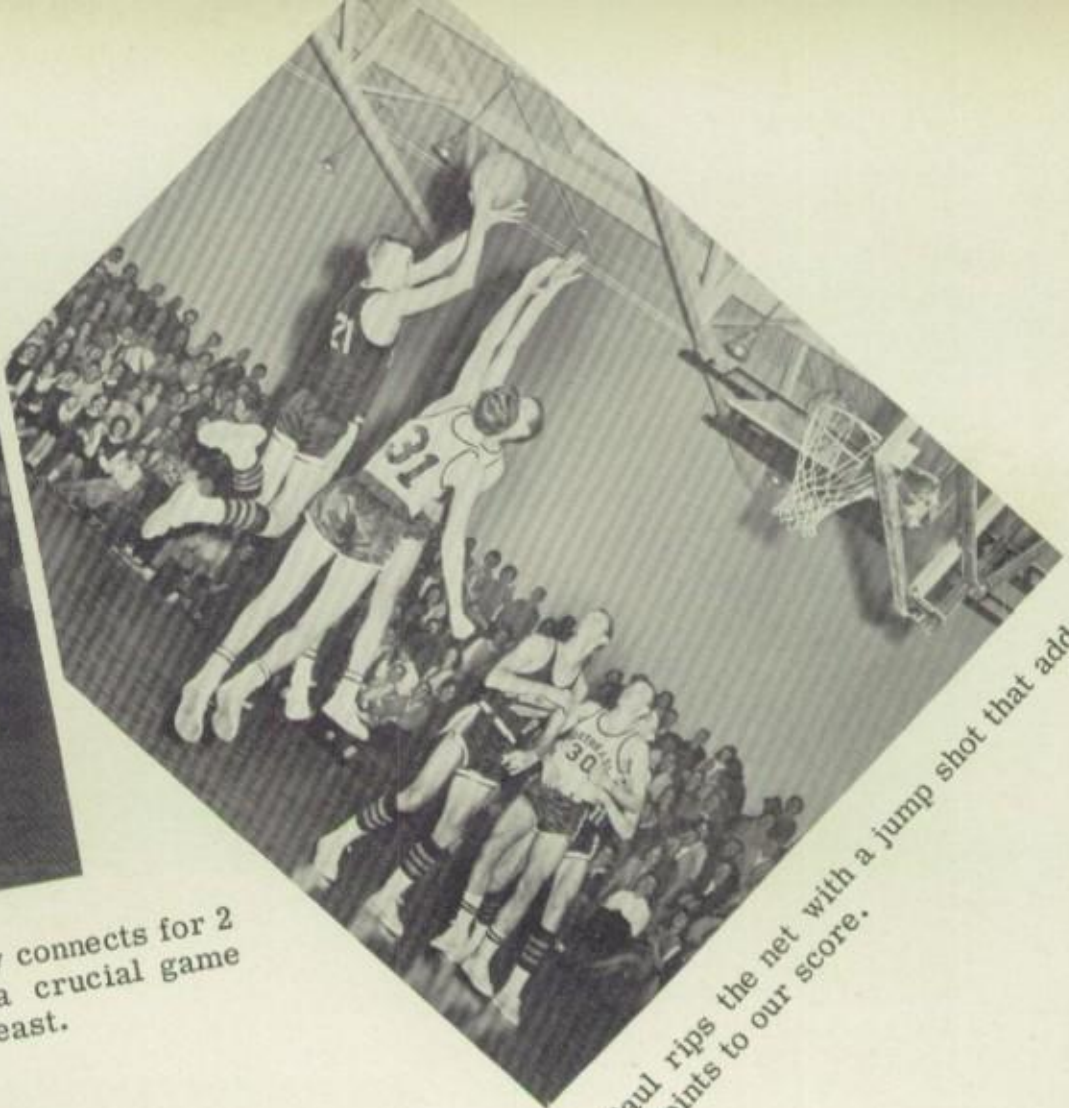

Mr. Cox congratulates Norma Fogleman after she was selected Homecoming Queen.

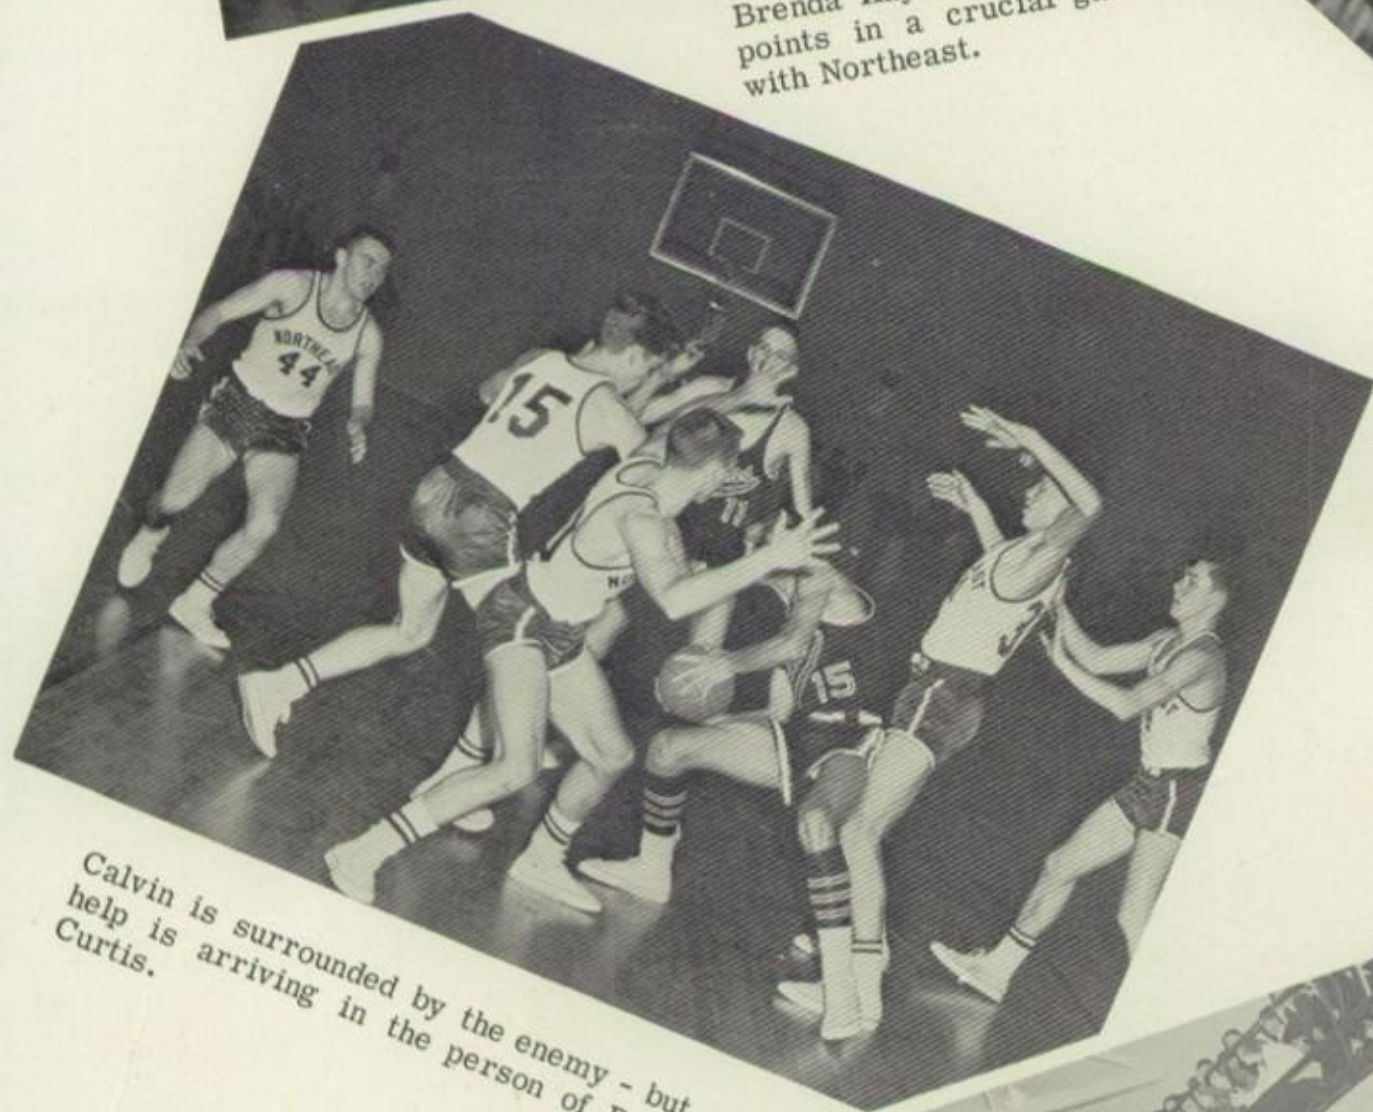

Ronald gets set to enter the game as Mr. Collette and Mr. Teachy explain their strategy.

Brenda Kay connects for 2 points in a crucial game with Northeast.

Paul rips the net with a jump shot that adds 2 points to our score.

Calvin is surrounded by the enemy - but help is arriving in the person of Doug Curtis.

Coach Bill Hicks

Southeast's first baseball team will consist of several returning lettermen from each school. The pitchers and catchers will start working out in the latter part of February with an abundant supply of each coming out for the team. The fielding department should be the most outstanding asset for the ball club with John Stancil (second baseman), who was a defensive stalwart at Alamance for three years, leading the way. Others, such as Jim Fields and Larry Clapp giving added support.

This year's coach is Bill Hicks. Coach Hicks is well known in baseball circles, as he played in the New York Giants organization for several years. He plans to have a very successful season and we are sure that he will bring the boys through for Southeast as he has done for other schools in the past.

Trackmen Look Toward Promising Year

The 1963 track team promises to be one of our most successful sports this year. Most promising will be Sophomore David Harrington from Alamance. In the county's final meet last year David placed very high in both the broad jump and shot put. Of course, we are looking for much assistance from many other hardworking track enthusiasts from all four grades here at Southeast. We hope track will become a major sport at Southeast in the future.

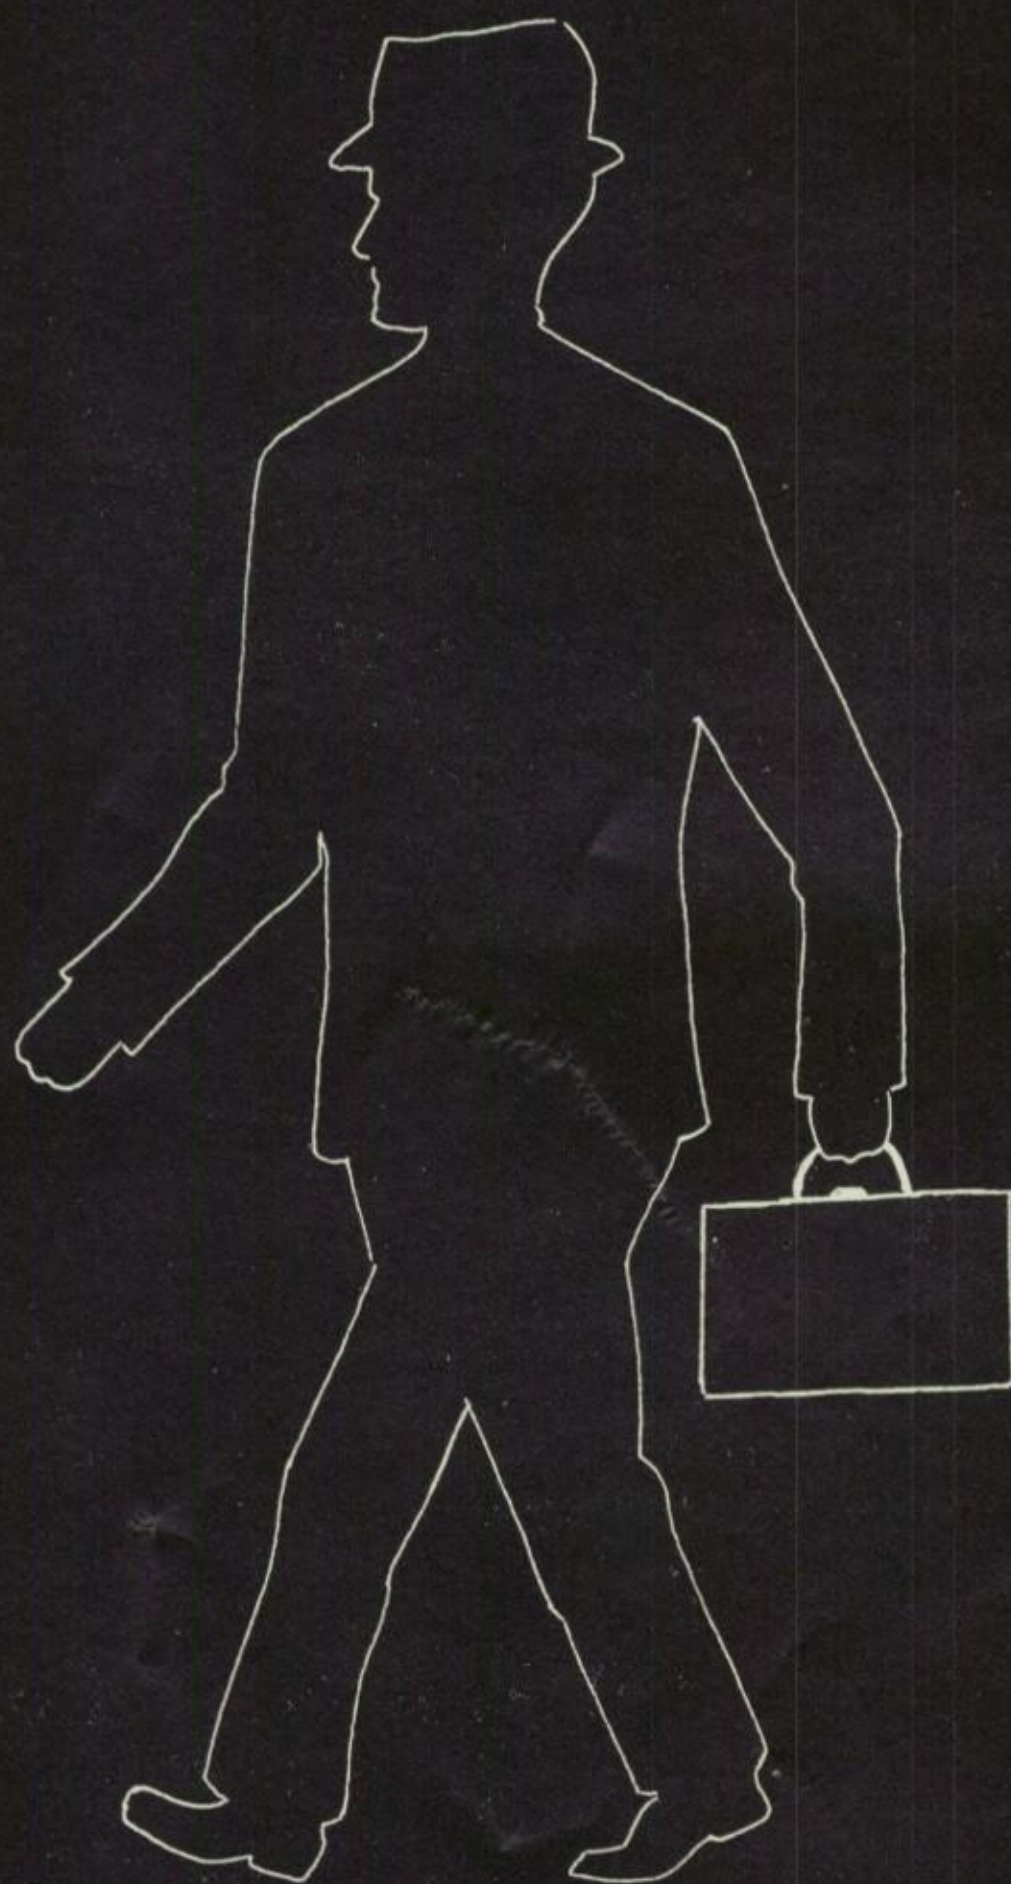

Mike Coulman and Dean Crabtree, two promising sophomores who ran for Alamance last year.

Golf Team Sets High Goals For Future

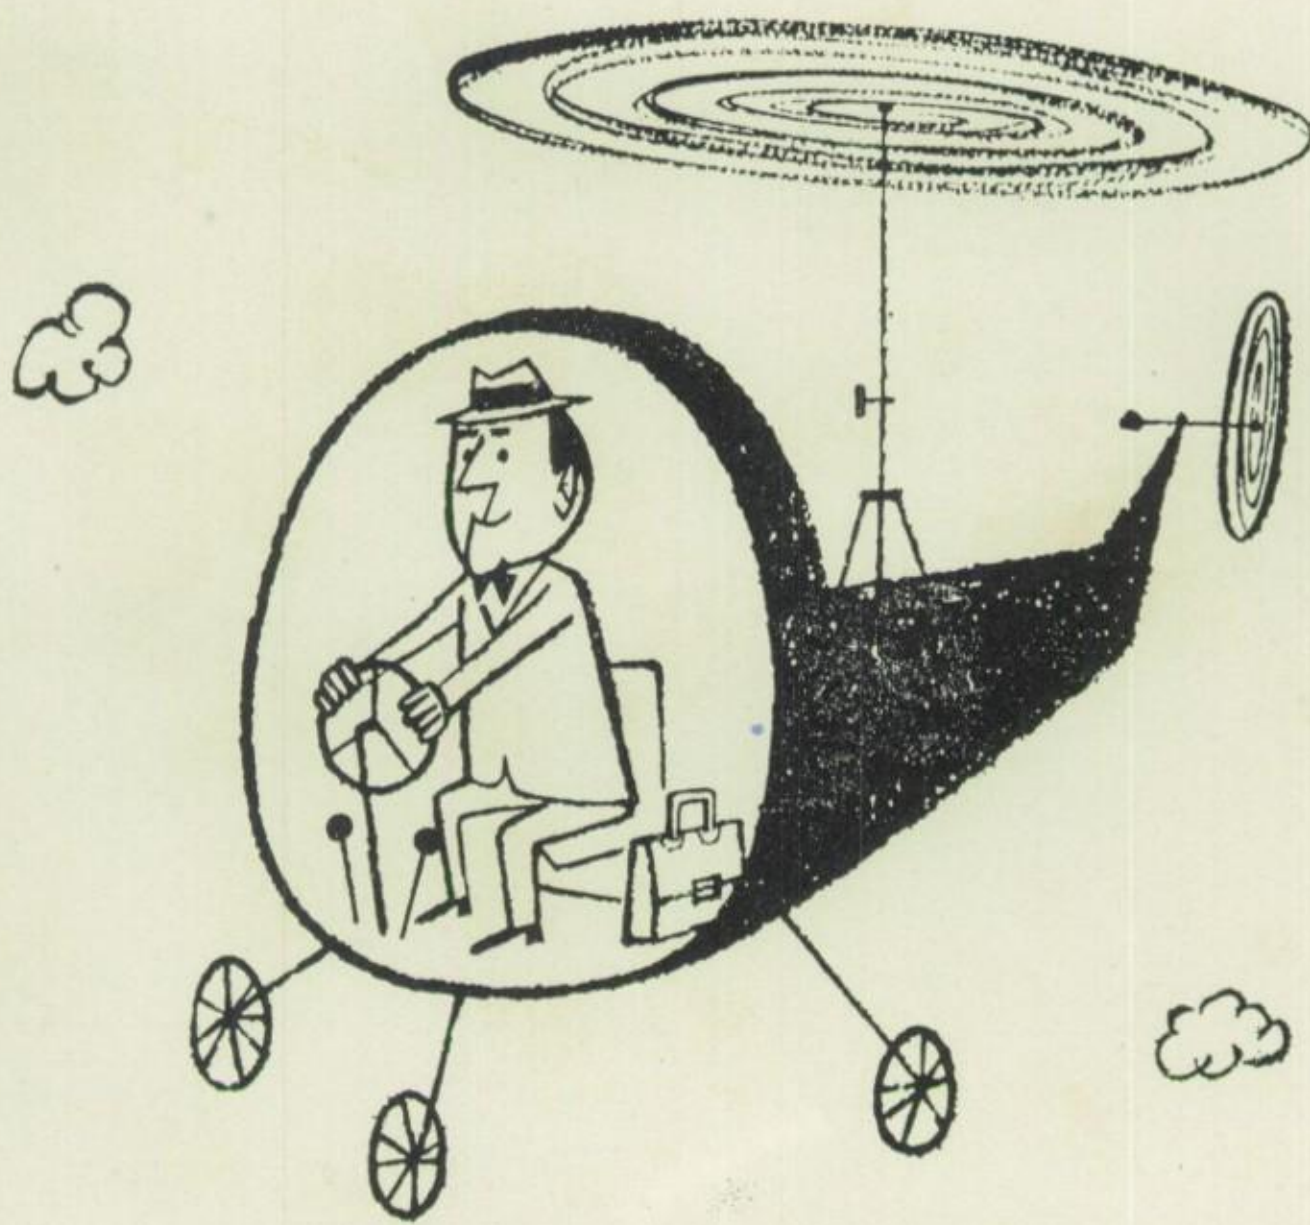

We hope that in the future golf will be a school sport at Southeast. There are many students interested in this sport and have had a chance to learn more from Lee Stevens, a golf pro from Gillespie Park Golf Course. Mr. Stevens has been teaching the basic fundamentals of golf to about 120 students. We hope that this will pay off in the future and Southeast will have a championship golf team.

Future stars - Brian Bolton and Ricky White hope to bring golf to Southeast real soon.
